

International Aspergers Day Fundraiser

Labelled Part 2: Tickets on Myself

Join us to celebrate International Aspergers Day on Monday 18th February 2019 at 6.30pm. Why not come straight from work? We have a special treat in store - Jacci Pillar will be performing her new show!

Recently arrived to live in Melbourne from the Northern Territory, Jacci Pillar is a comedian and anthropologist; Autistic-ly solving conundrums people don't know they have!

Her show "Labelled" is a comedic, audio-visual storytelling journey about growing up Autistic and the politics of neurodiversity. It recently toured from Darwin to Alice Springs to finish up at Sydney and Melbourne Fringe Festivals in 2018. Join us for a new special instalment: Labelled II: Tickets on Myself, just for International Asperger's Day 2019. This second instalment is a cheeky look at the Asperger's world from the 1970's to now and just how far we have come in the way we look at difference as a culture; from the medical model to social model of ability. It's feisty and educational, with a healthy dose of feel-good funny medicine.

Who should attend? The show content is suitable for teenagers and adults. Join us to celebrate International Aspergers Day in a fun way!
